Subject: Reminder - 2007 Delay of Enforcement
California International Registration Plan

California International Registration Plan (IRP) registration expired on December 31. California statute requires renewal fees to be paid by midnight of the expiration date.

On December 15, 2006, the California Department of Motor Vehicles requested each jurisdiction to delay enforcement of California IRP through February 28, 2007, for any vehicle that has valid 2006 California IRP plates and cab card or Temporary Operating Authority (REG 3100 or REG 2126 IRP) that expires on December 31, 2006. Temporary Operating Authority that expires before December 31, 2006, is not included in this delay of enforcement.

The department is currently issuing Temporary Operating Authorities for all vehicles that have not received their 2007 permanent credentials. Please accept facsimile copies of these temporaries. This information should be disseminated to all interested persons or agencies within your jurisdiction.

If you have any questions regarding the IRP registration status of any California-based IRP carrier, please contact the IRP Operations Section at (916) 657-7971, during business hours of 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. PST, Monday through Friday.
